What's That You Say (or Don't Say)? Communication with Young Children

Explore all the ways we communicate with young children and their families. You'll also discuss behavior, including the good, the bad and the ugly as a method of communication; barriers to communication and using clear, concise language when giving directions or managing guidance situations. Paula Buck, your instructor, has a Master's degree in Early Childhood Education and spent ten years working in child care centers and more than two years working with family home child care providers. She currently conducts child care resource and referral workshops, as well as HACAP child care programs. Meets CDA Competency: Strategies to Establish Relationships with Families.
